Several of Bangalore's party peeps decided to make the most of a wintry Bangalore evening and ring in the New Year under the stars.

Revelers who made their way to Barlezy got to party at a venue spread across two floors — one indoors and one on the roof top — and groove to the tunes of UK DJ Claudia Cazacu, and DJ Abhi Talreja from Mumbai. Guests also got to check

PROPERTY EXPO

Location, amenities draw homebuyers

A variety of options across a wide price range in the prime belts of the city drew homebuyers to the expo last weekend

The 10th edition of Home Affairs, the mega property expo presented by Thomas Property, was held in the city last weekend. The expo showcased a variety of options for homebuyers, from apartments to plots and villas across different price points.

For many buyers like IT professional Aparna Iyengar, the property expo was a great opportunity to consider whether buying a home. "Whitefield has many projects as well as a range of options. We are also considering Malnavaranga and Bellandur for a three-bedroom home for Rs 70-80 lakhs."

Mansi Thomas, an IT professional, who was visiting abroad for a first house in the city, says, "I'm looking for a three-bedroom option for around Rs 1 crore on Old Madras Road or on Hebbur Road. Whitefield Road is close to my workplace, Old Madras Road is close to the IT hub at Whitefield. The roads here will be good."

Others like Vijay Saini, employed in the retail sector, were looking to upgrade their home. "We are looking to moving into a villa, priced at around Rs 1.50 crore, around Sarjapur Road or Whitefield. We want a spacious house, around of 2000 sq ft built up area."

IT professional Suresh Babu and his wife Kiran were looking for their first home in a less congested area with abundant greenery. "We are looking for a two or three-bedroom option for Rs 60-80 lakhs in the east or north to stay close to work."

Credence Group was the Platinum Sponsor, Shree Properties was the Gold Sponsor, and Prayag Group was the Silver Sponsor of the expo.
